

About Buckl

Buckl Architects founded in 1971, is a veteran owned Architectural & Interior Design firm with offices in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and New York. We are committed to upholding our reputation as a firm that completes projects on-time and within budget. With Buckl Architects leadership and collaboration, projects results are creative, efficient, cost effective, environmentally responsible & maintenance friendly.

We combine creativity and problem solving with sound planning and cost-effective approach to each project. We focus our attention on a balanced approach to each site, building, program, budget, and end goals. Cost control, minimizing or eliminating change orders and maintenance friendly buildings combine to produce a successful project.

The firm continues to excel at being a service oriented architectural design firm that provides comprehensive planning, design, and project management services to major healthcare, institutional, commercial, and educational clients. We provide knowledgeable and experienced senior level staff on each project. We focus on knowing and understanding our client's needs and aspirations in detail. This approach consistently produces innovative results that meet or exceed client expectations.

Buckl Architects' approach to every project is to assemble the most qualified team possible to accomplish the client's goals and objectives. Occasionally, this means adding key consultants or teaming with other professionals to best serve the client. We have teamed with other architects, planners, engineers, consultants, and construction managers who possess the skills and vision to fulfill any specific owner or project need. We maintain control and responsibility for the coordination of each discipline in our team of professionals.

Buckl Architects primary philosophy is creating clear communication, understand, and trust with our clients to create a TEAM concept to achieve your goals.

While the firm continues to grow and mature, our commitment to client service and high-quality design remains constant. Our client service approach is rooted in the importance of listening to our clients' needs and is ingrained into all of our processes. Our design principles are based on our staff's common experience and desire to create environments of learning for students and staff promoting ingenuity, collaboration, and community. It is this collective staff experience that provides us with a unique perspective, resulting in great outcomes for each and every project.

This design approach defines our purpose and mission and is what we strive to do. Ensuring that we are providing clients with great, efficient architectural design that transforms our students and educators' environments into effective incubators spaces of knowledge.
